Joseph C. Miller

Johann Moritz Rugendas, Voyage Pittoresque dans le Bresil. Traduit de l'Allemand (Paris, 1835); reprinted, Viagem Pitoresca Altraves do Brasil (Rio de Janeiro, 1972).

Miller has done research for 35 years on the history of Central Africa and of slavery and the slave trade and has written extensively on all three subjects. His best known book is Way of Death: Merchant Capitalism and the Angolan Slave Trade, 1730-1830 (Wisconsin, 1988), which won the Herskovits Prize of the African Studies Association as the best book in African studies in 1989. He is also the author of Kings and Kinsmen: Early Mbundu States in Angola (Clarendon 1976) and the editor, among other things of The African Past Speaks: Essays on Oral Tradition and History, of the Encyclopedia of Africa South of the Sahara and of the Macmillan Encyclopedia of World Slavery. He served as President of the American Historical Association in 1998 and is now the vice-president and president-elect of the African Studies Association.
